Keller Ballot Guide 2026

Every contested race on your ballot, in ballot order, one box per race. Uncontested races are left out. This guide is nonpartisan and recommends no candidate or bond vote.

First time voting? Bring a Texas photo ID (driver's license, state ID, passport or similar). Texas has no straight-party option, so you mark each race separately, and you may skip any race. You can bring printed notes such as this guide, but you can't use your phone at the voting station.

Poll strip: each race opens with the latest public voter poll and, for judges, the lawyers' bar poll. Bar polls are surveys of attorneys taken before the primaries, not endorsements. Many local races have no poll at all.
Keller ISD: a split section before the trustee races shows each candidate's stance and any partisan signals.

Your federal representatives in Washington, then your Texas Senate and House members in Austin.

1 U.S. Senator

BALLOT PAGE 1 · 3 CANDIDATES

One of Texas's two U.S. Senate seats; six-year term. Open seat: incumbent John Cornyn lost the Republican runoff. One of the most closely watched Senate races in the country.

VOTER POLL UH Hobby School, likely voters, Oct. 10–14, ±2.2

BAR POLL

No bar poll applies (non-judicial office).

Ken Paxton — REP

- Texas Attorney General since 2015; beat Sen. John Cornyn in the May 26 Republican runoff.
- Known for aggressive state lawsuits against the federal government and for defending Texas's own border enforcement.
- Impeached by the Texas House in 2023 on corruption-related articles; acquitted by the Texas Senate. Critics, including some Republicans, cite ethics concerns.
- Campaign ads focus on Talarico's progressive voting record.

Fox 4 poll tracker

James Talarico — DEM

- 36; Austin-area state representative since 2018; former San Antonio middle-school teacher; divinity degree from Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary.
- Beat Rep. Jasmine Crockett in the March primary, about 53% to 46%.
- Platform: overhaul (or abolish) ICE and pursue federal immigration reform; raise taxes on the wealthiest; ban super PACs.
- Helped lead the 2025 Democratic walkout over congressional redistricting.

Marfa Public Radio

Ted Brown — LIB

- Libertarian Party nominee; pitches himself as an alternative to the two-party system and rejects the spoiler label.
- Polls around 3%; reported to draw mostly moderate Republicans.

Armin Mizani

REP

- Attorney with his own law firm. Purdue (BA), Michigan State (JD).
- Mayor of Keller since 2020 (second term); Keller City Council 2014–2020. Lost a 2018 primary challenge to Capriglione for this seat.
- Won the March 2026 GOP primary with 53.2% over Fred Tate and Zdenka Wilcox.
- Priorities (per campaign site, via Ballot Brief): cut property taxes and spending; higher pay for police and immigration enforcement; school choice plus higher teacher pay.
- Record cited by Branch.vote: raised Keller's homestead exemption; raised police and fire pay; opposes gun control; opposes abortion access.
- Has said he wants to reform the school-finance “Robin Hood” recapture system.
- Announced endorsements from 15 sitting Texas legislators (January).
- As Keller mayor during the January 2025 Keller ISD split debate, told CBS News he saw advantages in a smaller district (school-funding effects, curriculum flexibility).
- Did not respond to the 2026 ATPE (teachers' association) candidate survey.
- If elected, he must leave the mayor's office; Mayor Pro Tem Ross McMullin would serve

Cate Brennan

DEM

- Retired healthcare executive: former CEO of the National Association of Pediatric Nurse Practitioners; interim CEO of the Association for Vascular Access. MBA, Texas Woman's University. Lives in Grapevine.
- First run for office. Won the March 2026 Democratic primary with 78.2% over Aaron Hendley.
- Positions (Branch.vote): expand Medicaid and rein in healthcare costs; repeal the Education Savings Account (voucher) program; more public-school funding; $20 minimum wage; subsidized child care; new revenue from legalized gambling and marijuana; supports abortion access.
- On the border: says it matters but Operation Lone Star's budget can be trimmed.
- Completed Ballotpedia's Candidate Connection survey; signed the Mental Health Now statement of support.

TARRANT APPRAISAL DISTRICT BOARD

Nonpartisan. TAD sets taxable property values for 73 taxing units; it does not set tax rates. The board hires the chief appraiser and adopts the budget. Three of nine directors are voter-elected (since 2023); unpaid; four-year terms. Main debate: return to yearly appraisals vs. every two years. Candidate panel: Fort Worth Report.

KELLER ISD BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Nonpartisan. Context: enrollment down 17.4% in nine years (about 30,500 students); trustees voted May 14 to close Bear Creek, Parkwood Hill and Trinity Meadows intermediate schools after 2026–27. A plan to split the district was dropped after heavy opposition; every candidate opposes splitting. Tax rate held at $1.0852 for a third year. The $828M bond is the main issue. The True Texas Project recommends Parrish, Coker and Johnson and opposes the bond; Patriot Mobile's PAC has been active in past races.

§ The 2025 split: background and where candidates stand

CONTEXT FOR THE THREE TRUSTEE RACES BELOW

- Dec. 2024: A plan to split the district along U.S. 377 is first discussed in closed session. Board president Charles Randklev cited about $45M in budget cuts and a goal of keeping tax dollars local; supporters also cited falling enrollment and thin state funding.
- The math: A MoakCasey study projected about 21,700 students on the west (mostly Fort Worth) side and 9,100 on the east (Keller) side. Per-student funding would be roughly $10,200 west and $9,200 east, largely because the west would draw more state aid for special education, low-income and bilingual students. A consultant's email warned costs for underfunded programs would shift to the new western district.
- Jan.–Mar. 2025: Heavy backlash, student walkouts and the superintendent's resignation. A north Fort Worth HOA task force sued and petitioned to remove five trustees it said backed the plan: Randklev, John Birt, Micah Young, Chris Coker and Heather Washington. The plan was dropped March 14.
- May 2025: The board voted unanimously not to pursue detachment. Bills requiring a public vote on any split were filed; passage not confirmed here.
- 2026: Fort Worth council members moved to rezone 23 KISD properties to community-facility use only, citing the split episode. None of the candidates' public statements found address Fort Worth annexation of the western area.

CANDIDATE	SEAT	STANCE ON A SPLIT	PARTY SIGNAL
Chris Coker	Place 5 (inc.)	Named as a 2025 backer; defends exploring it as legitimate. Voted to end it. Closest to the split side in this field.	R-aligned True Texas pick
Geramie Parrish	Place 4	Objects to how it was done (no public vote); calls it a nonissue now. Keep tax revenue in KISD.	R-aligned True Texas pick
Colin Hodges	Place 5	Opposes any split without a public vote. Silent on a voter-approved split.	Republican GOP precinct chair
Rachel Weatherington	Place 4	Opposed; community was blindsided; unity priority.	None found
Andrew Walsh	Place 5	Opposed; says it caused a rift.	None found anti-PAC

CANDIDATE	SEAT	STANCE ON A SPLIT	PARTY SIGNAL
Tommie Johnson	Place 6	Opposed; “One KISD.”	`Weak` unsought True Texas pick
Barbara Brewer	Place 6	Strongly opposed; North Fort Worth homeowner-association leader and 2025 protest organizer.	`None found`

No candidate in 2026 publicly advocates splitting the district. All seven say they oppose it in some form; the table orders them from most open to the idea to most opposed, based on their records and statements. Party signals come only from public party roles and partisan-group endorsements; “none found” means nothing is on record, not that the candidate has no affiliation.

Rachel Weatherington

- Former Keller ISD teacher (resigned to run); special-education advocate; educator since 2010; first-time candidate.
- Bond: supports all five propositions, citing 1,000+ hours of committee work.
- Split: says the 2025 plan blindsided the community; lists rebuilding unity and trust as a top priority.
- Party signals: none found. No party office, partisan endorsement or partisan-group recommendation on record.
- Agrees with the closure plan given the budget. Priority: teacher recruitment and retention.

Campaign site FWR Q&A

Community Impact Q&A

Geramie Parrish

- Sales manager; former construction-business owner; UNT; father of three district students; first-time candidate.
- Bond: supports C, D and E; opposes A and B. Says the repair and safety work shouldn't be bundled into one $756M measure.
- Budget: cut central administration, contracts, travel and consultants first.
- Split: a Fort Worth resident; says he was angry the 2025 plan moved forward without a public vote, and now calls it a nonissue because most trustees involved have left. Pledges to keep KISD tax revenue in KISD.
- Party signals: recommended by True Texas Project, a conservative group that urges straight-Republican voting. No party office on record.

BAR POLL

No bar poll applies (non-judicial office).

Chris Coker

INCUMBENT

- Trustee since May 2023; self-employed business owner.
- Bond: the board's only “no” vote; his motion to cut Prop A to $400M died without a second. Supports legitimate HVAC/roof/plumbing work but objects to the total.
- Split: one of five trustees (with Randklev, Birt, Young and Washington) named in a 2025 HOA court petition as backing the plan. Now says the board legitimately explored whether a split made financial or operational sense and that misinformation surrounds it. Voted with the unanimous May 2025 resolution ending detachment, saying he was glad the community could move forward together.
- Lists responsible land use among his priorities.
- Party signals: recommended by True Texas Project; part of the 2025 board bloc whose other members (Randklev, Birt, Young) were reported as the split's main backers. Unseated incumbent Beverly Dixon in 2023, 53.9% to 46.1%. No party office on record.
- Platform: financial discipline; teacher pay and retention. Endorsed by True Texas Project.

Campaign site Community Impact Q&A

Andrew Walsh

- Engineer; four children in the district; in Keller four years.
- Bond: supports it; ties aging buildings to teacher retention.
- Cites Patriot Mobile PAC's influence in past races as a reason for running.
- Split: says the discussions caused a rift and trustees should stay out of politics.
- Party signals: none found. Campaigns against Patriot Mobile PAC influence (the PAC backs conservative candidates).

Campaign site

Colin Hodges

- Sales manager; Creighton; first-time candidate; elected GOP precinct chair March 2026. Says he isn't running for any PAC; calls Coker divisive.
- Bond: prefers a narrower package built with community input.
- Split: on his first day, would ask the board to oppose any split that lacks a public vote. A process position; he has not said whether he would back a split voters approved.
- Party signals: Republican. Elected a Republican Party precinct chair in March 2026, while running against the True Texas-backed incumbent.

Barbara Brewer

- Substitute teacher and caregiver; former PTA president; served on the Long-Range Planning Committee; first-time candidate.
- Bond: supports it with transparent spending and oversight.
- Split: the most outspoken opponent in the field. Board director of a North Fort Worth residential association (about 4,600 homes). Tied ribbons on trees as a unity protest in 2025 and told the Texas Tribune she feared North Fort Worth would lose taxpayer-funded facilities such as the varsity stadium. Says the district does not belong to Keller.
- Not happy with the closure plan.
- Party signals: none found.

Campaign site FWR Q&A

Tommie Johnson

- 35-year educator; former Keller ISD principal; retired 2019 as assistant superintendent of HR; 29-year resident.
- Bond: supports all of it; notes bond money isn't subject to state recapture.
- Supports consolidation as data-driven.
- Split: runs on “One KISD” and fair treatment of every campus and community; says major decisions need public input.
- Party signals: weak. Recommended by True Texas Project, but says she never spoke with the group and was surprised.

Campaign site FWR Q&A

KELLER ISD BOND PROPOSITIONS A–E

$828.1M total; each proposition is voted on separately. State law requires each to be labeled a “property tax increase” because the bonds are repaid from property taxes.

45

Propositions A–E

BALLOT PAGES 4–5 · FOR / AGAINST ON EACH

PROP	AMOUNT	PAYS FOR	DEBATE
A	$756,300,896	Repairs and renovations at 34 campuses: roofing, HVAC, plumbing, electrical, code compliance, safety and security, technology network; partial rebuild of Keller Middle School.	District cites aging buildings and repeated HVAC failures. Critics call it too large and bundled; Coker's motion to cut it to $400M failed.
B	$28,000,000	Student and staff devices (repaid within 5 years).	Supporters cite instruction and cybersecurity. Parrish opposes.
C	$8,867,510	Natatorium filtration, dehumidifier and HVAC.	Repairs existing systems. Parrish supports.
D	$11,025,446	Athletics Complex site repairs; Keller HS Field House renovation.	Restores existing facilities.
E	$23,913,963	Artificial turf at MS competition fields and HS baseball/softball.	District says three MS fields can't host competition now. Parrish supports.

District's case

- First bond since 2019 ($315M, which the district says finished on budget).
- Citizens Bond Advisory Committee approved each item by two-thirds; trustees approved 5–1.
- District and its adviser, Hilltop Securities, project all five can be issued over about four years with the debt rate held at 33¢ under conservative assumptions.
- District estimates delay could cost about $50M as construction costs rise 6%+ a year; bond money isn't subject to recapture.

Opposition and caveats

- True Texas Project urges “no.” Coker, Parrish (A and B) and Hodges question size or structure.
- No formal pro-bond PAC found. Weatherington, Walsh, Brewer and Johnson support it.
- “No rate increase” is a projection that depends on property values and interest rates. No per-home estimate, and no figure for the debt rate if bonds fail, was published.
